ADOPT POLICY OF IRISH HOME RULE

English Liberals Commit Their Party to Support of Demand of Irish Party.

London, April 1.—How signally Lord Salisbury's plan of settling the Irish question by twenty years of resolute government has failed was strikingly shown in the House of Commons last night. The question for debate was the Irish question and it drew one of the largest and most eagerly attentive audiences of the session. All the foremost speakers of the House including John Redmond for the Irish, Arthur Balfour for the Tories and H. H. Asquith and Augustine Birrell for the Liberals, engaged in the discussion and it is declared by all that the Irish debate ever attained a higher level of argumentative excellence.

The resolution passed stated that, "in the opinion of this house the solution of this problem can only be attained by giving the Irish people legislative and executive control of all purely Irish affairs." Before the final vote the resolution was amended by adding the words "all subject to supreme authority of the Imperial Parliament."

"We did something," said Mr. Redmond, "that was possible to do in the direction of home rule in the present parliament. We changed the course for the future and committed the Liberal party unequivocally. Do what it will it must go before the country at the next election with this vote on record." The Irish interests are to the fore in the House of Commons this afternoon. Mr. Birrell is introducing his bill to give the Irish a university education.

Question of Jurisdiction.

Vancouver, B.C., March 31.—Justice Martin sitting as judge in the admiralty court will hear the first evidence in the test case to decide federal and provincial jurisdiction on streams within the railway belt. The case arose from the application of Herman & Burwell to file water records when a coal mining company commenced, the province claiming that federal jurisdiction was not exclusive, especially when the streams were not navigable within the meaning of the B. N. A. act, and the trouble becoming as the contending parties apparently are not agreed as to what constitutes a navigable stream, the case is certain to be appealed to the Exchequer Court at Ottawa and to create a precedent.

GRAIN GROWERS AFTER TERMINAL ELEVATORS

Conference in Ottawa on Royal Grain Commission's Report—Winnipeg Grain Exchange Is Condemned By Grain Growers and Defended By Exchange Members.

Ottawa, March 31.—A conference was held in Sir Richard Cartwright's room today, of the grain growers, railway men, grain dealers, elevator owners and other persons interested in the western grain trade, for the purpose of informally discussing the report of the Royal Grain Commission and any legislation that may be in contemplation. The ministers present were Sir Richard Cartwright, Hon. Mr. Fisher and Hon. Mr. Oliver. Practically all the western members were present.

The discussion resolved itself largely into a debate on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange. The opening speaker was Mr. Landley, president of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' association, He demanded government ownership of terminal elevators with the object of preserving the identity of grain. He declared that there was wide distrust of the way grain was handled, and he assailed the grain exchange. J. Fleming, president of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, defended that organization from the charges of corrupting government officers, whose duty it is to stand between the producer and the exporter. He admitted that distrust existed, but pleaded for existence of the exchange. He also discussed the question of car shortage and car supply, saying that the range of grain depended on the availability.

R. C. Henderson, vice-president of the Grain Growers' association of Manitoba, attacked the grain exchange as being under the influence of banking and milling interests, and asserted that the farmers had proved before the Grain Commission the existence of a pool in restraint of trade. He objected to dealers owning terminal elevators and complained of car shortage. Others speaking were Frank O. Ivens, of the Saskatchewan Grain Dealers' association, J. Partridge, of the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' association, and John Knight, Winnipeg, secretary of the Bankers' association. Among those present were J. Fleming, J. S. Lapp, J. O. Fowler, C. A. Pariish, W. H. McWilliams, E. N. Rowland and Nicholas Bawlf, of Winnipeg, representing the grain exchange; C. Drinkwater, F. W. Peters and Geo. Shaw, representing the railway interests; MacKenzie and R. C. Henders, the Manitoba Grain Growers' association; Langley and J. Partridge, the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' association and Rice Sheppard, of the Alberta Grain Growers' association.

VOLUNTEER ARMY ENDS.

Hundreds of Volunteers at Stirring Farewell Banquets Recruit in New Army.

London, April 1—With the stroke of midnight Great Britain's volunteer army became a thing of the past after an existence of forty-nine years, and the territorial army introduced by War Secretary Haldane reigns in its stead. Volunteer forces throughout the country celebrated their "last post" at their respective headquarters by dinners and other celebrations, the festivities however taking on something of a sad character owing to the disappearance of old associations. As midnight struck there were stirring scenes as to what would be the first to enlist in the new body, many hundreds being thus recruited.

Abandon Alaska Route.

Seattle, Wash., April 1.—The Alaska section of the New York-Paris automobile race has been abandoned on account of the condition of the winter trail between Valdez and Nome. The American car arrived here on board the City Pueblo. The party will likely take the first ship from Seattle and proceed through Alberta via the southern route.

LABOR CONDITIONS IN AMERICAN COAL FIELDS

300,000 Miners Suspend Work for Today but 152,000 Say They Will Resume Work Tomorrow—General Statement of Affairs.

Chicago, April 1—While more than 300,000 miners of soft coal will cease work today to celebrate the annual anniversary, 146,000 of that number will remain idle until agreements are made with the operators. One hundred and fifty-two thousand will resume work on Thursday. While it is called a suspension in those fields where work ceases indefinitely it is in reality a strike. Central Illinois, Pennsylvania and Indiana are the only big fields where work will not be suspended.

The Illinois mines will be closed by agreement between the operators and miners who have agreed to continue negotiations looking to a settlement. Western Pennsylvania operators reposed positively to make an agreement with the miners unless the latter make some important concessions.

President Frank Feehan, of that district, issued orders today for 45,000 miners to walk out at the end of the day's work. Both union officials and operators of that district have no hope of the miners resuming work inside thirty days. Indiana operators and miners have not yet made an agreement but decided to keep the mines running until they either agree or break up. Illinois operators endeavored to induce the miners to agree to suspension, but the latter refused.

At midnight the operators decided to continue running the mines, but another joint conference is to be held Thursday. Michigan operators and miners agreed to continue operations pending negotiations for agreement. Kentucky and West Virginia operators and miners have made a similar agreement. In the southwest the suspension is total. The shut-down in the southwest affects Kansas, Arkansas, Texas, Oklahoma, Indian Territory and Missouri. Iowa coal miners are also stopped pending the new working agreement. John Mitchell, who retires tonight refuses to discuss the situation further than to say he was hopeful or a satisfactory termination of the strike in the near future.

INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION.

Canada and United States Will Each Appoint Two Men to Joint Commission.

Washington, April 1—James Bryce, the British ambassador, and Secretary of State Root have agreed upon a revival of the famous joint commission which dissolved here some years ago between Canada and the United States. The commission is to be revived by a treaty which as announced some days ago, has been drawn up by Ambassador Bryce and Secretary Root, and provides for four members, two from the United States and two from Canada. A treaty of arbitration has also been drawn up by these two diplomats. The treaty will affect the use of waters between the Niagara falls and the New Foundland fisheries. It is not yet in shape for presentation, however.

Little Building in Montreal.

Montreal, April 1—Building permits taken out at the building inspector's office during March were only to the value of $137,258, which shows the enormous falling off of $455,934, compared with the corresponding month last year. Most of the permits were for small structures.

Yukon Registrar Resigns.

Ottawa, April 1—J. E. Girouard, registrar of the Yukon territory, has resigned and the duties of the office will in future be performed by Lalibertè, court librarian. This will be a saving of $2,700 a year.

Jealousy Causes Tragedy.

Los Angeles, April 1.—Mrs. Helen Griffin, aged 28, was shot and killed by Mrs. U. S. De Armin, wife of a prominent horseman. The cause was jealousy.

RAILWAY BUILDING DRAWS THOUSANDS

Preparations Hum Along the Coast for G. T. P. Construction East of Prince Rupert

Vancouver, April 1.—Vancouver's custom revenue for the fiscal year ending today shows an increase of fifty-three per cent. over the previous twelve months. E. B. Smith, superintendent of the Grand Trunk says the output will be increased to five thousand tons daily just as soon as the smelter can be enlarged to accommodate the increased tonnage. Within a fortnight, Messrs. Foley, Welch & Stewart, railway contractors, will begin hiring men here in connection with their contracts for building a branch and the Grand Trunk Pacific section of the main line of the G.T.P. eastward from Prince Rupert. Grading operations will be carried on at the coast terminal a week later, as all preliminary arrangements have virtually been completed.

Will Employ Thousands.

All surplus labor will be snapped up, as the contractors will guarantee employment for thousands of workers. No men willing to work need be out of jobs. The wages scale has not yet been announced, but it will be equal to the rate prevailing on construction work in the west during recent years. Twenty-five laborers who were fired here today will be passengers on the Camosun, sailing for the north Thursday.

They will erect tents and complete preparations for the reception of the big consignments which will be shipped from here during the next month. This party will be followed next week by a larger number of carpenters, whose destination will also be Prince Rupert.

Prepare For Construction.

The skilled labor will be employed in building bunk houses and establishing headquarters and general construction camps. A month will probably elapse before the work is under way in a number of inland states owing to the fact that sufficient of such contractors looking over the ground and getting in their men and outfits. In all likelihood most of the work on the two sections will be submet. Owing to its enormous facilities, the firm will probably supply a good deal of the plant required by these subcontractors.

Shovels, drills and scrapers in almost endless numbers, as well as air drill compressors for driving tunnels, and a whirlpool boat which plies on Winnipeg next week, as the contracts on which they are employed are now practically completed. One of its representatives stated today that it is certain dirt will be flying in real earnest on Prince Rupert the third week in April.

Open For Traffic this Month.

Saskatoon, Sask., April 1.—G. T. P. Engineer Merriam and his party here stated that the gap between here and Portage will be closed in a fortnight. The track laid though line is not yet ballasted. Freight Agent Hunter who is also here, stated that probably passenger service will be commenced in June. He reports a quantity of mixed freight, settlers' effects and grain already being handled along the line.

PROGRAMME BEFORE RAILWAY COMMISSION

Commissioners Meet With New Chairman and Will Consider Question of Uniformity of Bills of Lading. —Few Cases Unsettled.

Ottawa, April 1.—The railway commissioners—Hon. Mr. Justice Mabee, Hon. Mr. Bernier and Mr. Killam—met their first sitting here since the chairman's appointment this morning. It transpired that when all the cases left outstanding had been looked over, there were only three concerning which there was any question in regard to being reheard. The matter of uniformity in train rules on various railways is also a matter that which will have a large bearing on it, as the commissioners anticipate a long hearing in dealing with it.

It is the duty of the board the public as well as those who operate the trains through the country. The responsibility of the railway companies for goods left at flag stations is another important case to be considered. Merchants and others shipping goods to flag stations at present are required to sign "release from liability notes." In many cases goods either stolen or damaged and shippers have, of course, had no redress.

CLORAN'S BILL DEFEATED.

Senate Rejects Bill to Prevent Divorced Persons Remarrying.

Ottawa, March 31.—In the Senate yesterday, Senator Cloran moved the second reading of a bill to prevent persons divorced by the Canadian parliament from remarrying, and making such persons remarrying abroad, bigamists in Canada. Senator Cloran did not ask this on religious or civil grounds, but in the name of the fathers and mothers. Why should a man who was such a brute that parliament freed his wife be allowed to marry again. He thought parliament had no right to declare the man a brute and turn the wolf loose on society to invade any home. There were plenty of such characters roaming on their own hook without parliament giving them a certificate of character. The bill did not propose to prevent the remarriage of the innocent party, but only of the one shown guilty. The bill was defeated by 24 to 22. The following bills were given third readings: To incorporate the Lakeview and Land and Lumber Railway Company; incorporating the Bank of Canada, London and Paris and to change the title to the Anglo-Canadian and Continental Bank, and a bill amending the government railway's act.

THE GOVERNMENT BUYS BELL PLANT

Hon. W. H. Cushing Completes Purchase for $676,000—Size Denies Deal—Premier's Statement.

Montreal, March 31.—Another step in the buying out of the Bell Telephone Company in Western Canada was put through to-day by Hon. W. H. Cushing, minister of public works, Alberta, when on behalf of the government of that province, he purchased the system of the Bell Telephone Company in that province for $675,000. Mr. Cushing has been in Montreal for a week negotiating with the Bell Company, but never gave any intimation that the deal was put through. Mr. Cushing stated to-night that the deal was so completely instituted that at midnight to-night the province will take over the system and by to-morrow morning every telephone in the province will be owned by the government and operated by its servants. The Bell Company at first demanded $750,000 for its plant in Alberta, but Hon. Mr. Cushing did not want to follow in the generous footsteps of Manitoba and held out for a lower price, which was finally accepted this afternoon by President Sise, of the Bell Company.

Mr. Cushing stated to-night that he was well satisfied with his work, and considered that the government of his province had secured a bargain in its telephones. "As soon as Alberta was erected into a province," said Mr. Cushing, "the government started in to build a public-owned telephone system about as big as that which it has just purchased from the Bell Company, so that it is in good position to carry on the operations." "It is," he said, "the intention of the government to go on increasing their system as occasion demands, and to run the telephone so economically that there will be no inducement for any private company to try to enter the field."

Hon. Mr. Cushing declared that there was a strong feeling all through the West in favor of public ownership of telephones, and he expressed the conviction that the government of Saskatchewan, which has already done a good deal of telephone building, will, ere, long, follow Alberta's example and buy out the Bell plant.

Size Denies the Deal.

Montreal, April 1.—C. F. Sise, president of the Bell Telephone Company, denied most emphatically today that the company has disposed of the company's business in Alberta to the government of that province. There have been negotiations, he stated, but it is not true that the company has sold. Hon. W. H. Cushing, minister of public works of Alberta, who has been in the city for some time conducting negotiations, was credited with the statement that the deal had been closed for $675,000.

Premier's Statement.

Premier Rutherford this morning confirmed the report received from Montreal that Hon. W. H. Cushing had succeeded in purchasing for the Alberta government the Bell Telephone Company's line and plant in Alberta for $675,000. The premier stated that he received a wire from Mr. Cushing yesterday afternoon to this effect.

Emma Goldman at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg, April 1—Emma Goldman and her fellow anarchists gave a rather tame lecture here last night on the "Aims and Future of Anarchy," but by no reasonable stretch of meaning the conclusion that "society had to be reformed and whether the reformation was to be accomplished by peaceful means or bloodshed, would depend on the calibre of those to be reformed and of the reformers." There was no disturbance, only one constable being present as usual. The auditors were good natured and mainly more curious regarding the lecturer than the subject. The lecturer denied any knowledge of Bedman's plans other than that he was going to organize the unemployed in Minneapolis.

WAS ENOUGH SEED IN THE PROVINCE

Applications for Seed Grain Closed Tuesday—258,826 Bushels Required.

A total of 258,826 bu[illegible] of seed has been ordered by the farmers of Alberta from the seed grain branch of the Dominion government to be used in the province this spring. The greater proportion of this seed grain was purchased in the province, there being only some 50,000 bushels of Manitoba oats and a little Ontario barley used here. Practically all of the oats and barley thus obtained in Alberta were it not that considerable oats had been bought at outside points and it is expected that there will be a surplus. This report indicates that the crop failure last year in Alberta was not so disastrous as was anticipated.

The time for receiving applications for seed grain closed on March 31st. The following is a report of the number of bushels of each kind of grain ordered in the various districts in the province:—

	No. Wheat	Oats	Barley
Edmonton . .	2164	20,947	168,872
Red Deer . . .	573	3,960	30,345
Calgary	439	2,006	37,327
Lethbridge . .	123	2,692	4,710
Pincher Creek	942	1,096	14,318
Total	3361	29,721	195,672

Of this quantity of grain required 15,638 bushels of wheat, 68,886 bushels of oats and 11,139 bushels of barley were applied for by homesteaders and 12,987 1-2 bushels of wheat, 112,485 bushels of oats and 20,067 1-2 bushels of barley were applied for by parties desiring to rent[illegible] land. Of the total amount of grain required by those financially able to pay for it that applied for the province was 314 bushels of wheat, 4,773 bushels of oats and 683 1-2 bushels of barley. That applied for by parties desiring to rent land was 582 bushels of wheat, 9,545 bushels of oats and 1,534 bushels of barley.

The distribution of this grain is now being carried on apace and by the middle of April it is expected that the grain ordered will all be pretty well distributed. This huge undertaking of buying, handling and delivering this large volume of grain has necessitated a large amount of work. One drawback in the distribution is that all of the wheat, oats and barley ordered by one man cannot be delivered at one station, while in many cases necessitate a second trip to the nearest station by the farmer to secure all of his seed.

Birthday Presentation.

Ottawa, April 1.—This being the sixty-eighth anniversary of the birth of Geo. Taylor, Conservative whip, and a man of public service and confidence, the Conservative members in caucus assembled presented him with a massive gold watch chain and locket. The latter bearing an appropriate inscription. Mr. Taylor made a suitable response to the presentation speech. He has been active in the usual birthday practice, Mr. Taylor had the desk of every member in the House and the press gallery decorated with apples, the House presenting the appearance of a fruit section of an Ontario fair.

ESCAPED FROM THE CALGARY BARRACKS

Young Criminal Who Plunged Knife IntoC.P.R. Official at Laggan Got Away But Was Subsequently Recaptured.

Calgary, March 31.—Fraser Baldwin, a boy of 18 years of age, escaped from the Barracks last night and his going is the most sensational event since the notorious Ernest Cashel. He got in the toils of the R. N. W. M. P. last week when, it is said, without any provocation he plunged a knife into the interior of a C. P. R. engineer. This happened at Laggan. Baldwin was committed for trial and was brought to Calgary.

Being a youngster he was put into a cell in the female ward, and for some days has been very quiet.

However, yesterday afternoon he was ordered by the matron to throw out the ashes from the stove, and when the door closed on him, evidently made a sudden getaway, taking to the C.P.R. tracks.

The authorities at the time had their attention centred on an insane prisoner who broke out, and Folly twenty minutes passed before the police in general were notified of the escape.

The city police officials were immediately notified of the boy's disappearance and have had instructions to look for him all night, as well as the Mounted Police officers on duty.

Sergeant Major Baldwin Fraser of the young boy who escaped from the barracks yesterday afternoon, was recaptured by Detective Duffy on the Macleod trail at Johnny Branzen's home.

Politicians In Fistic Encounter.

Little Rock, Ark., March 31.—United States Senator Jeff Davis and T. E. Helm, the deputy prosecuting attorney of this district, met on the street this afternoon and settled an old grievance in a rough and tumble fist fight. Davis was badly licked, and tried to use his revolver. Both were arrested.

HILL INCLINED CLOSED.

His Appointment As Ambassador To Germany Formally Made.

Washington, D.C., April 1.—The president to-day sent to the Senate the nomination of David Jayne Hill to be ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary to Germany. He also named Arthur Beaupre, of Illinois, to be minister to the Netherlands and Luxemburg, and Spencer Eddy, of Illinois, to be minister to the Argentine Republic. The statement about Mr. Thew's resignation made at the White House to-day is said to be taken as a happy ending of the Hill incident. It is also said that the American administration is that Mr. Hill's eminence as a statesman, scholar, and diplomat has not suffered the slightest impairment in view of the disclaimer of the German Emperor of any adverse expression regarding him. At the German embassy it was said to-day that nothing more would be said regarding the Hill matter from that source.

Last month's proceedings

Advices received at the German foreign office from Washington indicate that the American capital, as well as in Berlin, the Hill episode is regarded as having been happily adjusted.

OTTAWA MEMBER SILENCES BENNETT

The Member for East Simcoe Makes Charges of Graft Which Are Refuted—Hon. Mr. Patterson Maintains Dignity in Debate With Billingsgate Bennett.

Ottawa, Mar. 31—In the House of Commons yesterday the time was devoted to private bills. A third reading was given a bill to incorporate the Institute of Architects of Canada, also passed the bill to amend the law respecting the duties and the title of the organization is changed to "The Architectural Institute of Canada." The budget debate was conducted by Malachi Schell (Liberal, of South Oxford), and Hugh Guthrie (Conservative, Dundas), Hugh Guthrie (Liberal, North Wellington moving the adjournment.

Eaton's Statement.

Mr. Owen (Northumberland) drew attention to John C. Eaton's statement before the imperial commission investigating the Atlantic rates, to the effect that New York rates to Great Britain were lower than Canadian rates. Hon. Mr. Fielding replied that on his invitation Assistant Received Blue Willis, of Canada, had been appointed to watch the Canadian interests on the commission, but finding the proceedings of particular interest returned. More recently the high commissioner has been asked to become a member of his staff to watch Canadian interests.

After the House concurred in supplementary estimates for the year ending today, Minister of Finance Fielding introduced resolutions continuing the duties on sugar, tea and coffee and a half millions. Mr. R. L. Borden expressed the hope this would be the last time the House would be called upon to vote five millions of supplementaries after they had been spent. He thought it a discourtesy to the House.

Mr. Fielding agreed with the principle, but it would never be possible to forecast the departmental requirements exactly, and, of course, the amount is subject to debate. Mr. Borden objected to the idea of voting estimates annually with the understanding that supplementary votes would be required next session. The opposition claimed a portion was spent in keeping huge dredges owned by friends of the administration.

Bennett's Unfounded Charge.

W. H. Bennett (Conservative, East Simcoe) said two tenders were put in for the Collingwood and Midland Dredging company, both in the same handwriting of Grant, a brother of Grant Hall, member, or manager, who was an officer of the company.

Hon. Mr. Patterson took exception to the charge, which would never be pursued. Mr. Patterson accused Mr. Bennett of constantly throwing out insinuations against public men. There was not characterized Mr. Patterson as a mighty poor specimen of a bluffer. The latter retorting that he could not be drawn into any Billingsgate. Mr. Bennett then charged that a son of Robert Bennett, member for Ottawa, had a graft on the boiler inspection and government insurance. George Taylor said this was a violation of the independence of parliament act, and produced cheques issued to the Boiler Inspection and Insurance company endorsed by Stewart and his son and included in the latter's bank account.

Mr. Stewart explained the cheques were for renewals of insurance placed in 1885, long before he became a member. The cheques were placed to the credit of Stewart & Co., only pending a monthly settlement with the company.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier thought the explanation was satisfactory. There was no suggestion of violating the act and it was purely a technical question.

Mr. Borden agreed that it was not a question of morals but whether it was a technical violation of the independence of parliament act.

Mr. Stewart further explained that in 1902, two years before he had been elected, the Casualty Boiler Insurance company was organized and cheques that date had been getting the government's business. The discussion was finally dropped and supply bill was read the third time.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR CROP OF 1908

Although An Early Forecast it is Favorable That Losses of 1907 Will be Retrieved.

Winnipeg, April 1.—Provided the weather turns warm, seeding will commence this week in the early districts of the province. Most of the land is light and well drained, such localities being the districts of Carberry and Burnside. This will be five to six weeks earlier than was possible last year and bodes well for general prospects. Taken altogether, seeding should be fairly general by the middle of April, and all wheat, even on heavy land, should be got in around the beginning of May. Last year practically no seeding had been done by the end of April and little was done in the first week of May.

Seeding became general about May 1 to 15, but much of the wheat was not put in till well on to the end of the month, while the very big acreage destined for wheat in Southern Saskatchewan and Alberta for flax and coarse grains, owing to the lateness of the season. Farmers generally would have been better off if they had quit seeding wheat in the southern part of Saskatchewan considerably earlier than they did and relied more on barley and oats.

They took long chance on an unusually late fall and got pumped in many cases. Thus, although it is too early as present to form an accurate idea as to the season's prospects, it is likely that with the small amount of snow on the ground and every indication of early spring that the crop will get a good start. As to the acreage, under normal conditions the season will be a great increase in the area seeded to wheat. The short vernal season last year favored summer fallow, and although the frost came early fall was unusually prolonged and favorable for plowing. In some districts where the grain was hit heavily by early frosts, the farmers burned the over-crop and will scratch it in early in the spring with good chances of success.

Manitoba farmers are complaining of the attitude of the head office of loan companies, and it may be regarded as certain that next session the government will insist that the stated books a model Winnipeg farm, with which all loan companies doing business in the province will have to comply.

COLD BLOODED MURDER OF PROMINENT FARMER

Two Men Who Plan Out Brutal Murder of Gus Johnsen, of North Dakota, in Danger of Being Lynched.

Minot, N.D., April 1.—Gus Johnson, a prominent farmer, who lived five miles south of Kenmare, was found murdered, and R. S. Noah and Patsy Coyle have been lodged in the county jail charged with the crime. Three weeks ago Johnson engaged Noah to work for him. Last Tuesday Noah went to Kenmare and informed the citizens that Johnson had been suddenly called to Sweden by the death of his mother, and that his goods and stock had been turned over to Noah for disposal.

Noah said he had engaged Patsy Coyle, who was a Bismarck penitentiary eight weeks ago, after having served a year's sentence for a Newport, robbery last year, to work for him. Noah disposed of two loads of grain in Kenmare and one at Kenmare and R. S. Noah and Patsy Coyle, a neighbor of the murdered man, but not a relative, became suspicious, as they found out nothing definite about his departure. The sale of grain and horses looked strange to them, and they went to the authorities. The two men were arrested and taken to Kenmare, where a preliminary hearing was given them on the charge of stealing wheat.

In the meantime, Postmaster Dobbs, of Kenmalton, made a thorough investigation of the house and found in the floor he found a piece of new linoleum which aroused his suspicion. This was taken up, and beneath it were found blood stains over a trap-door leading into the cellar. In the cellar was found the body of an aged man, covering unmistakable marks of violence. The two men were immediately placed under heavy guard at the Commercial Hotel at Kenmare. Special police were sworn in and guarded the hotel entrance.

When the news of the murder spread abroad there was talk of lynching, and a large crowd, also a crowd of farmers, neighbors of the dead man, were on their way to the hotel. The sheriff was summoned from Minot and arrived there on the night train with his deputies, and the men are now lodged in jail. Johnson had been living near Kenmare for some time and was a well-known and respected citizen. He was a widower, but not divorced, was living on a claim with her daughter about two miles from her husband.

At a meeting of the directors of the general hospital last night it was decided that unless the town council could see some way to assist in the maintenance of the hospital the board will proceed to wind up the affairs of the institution. The council will meet tonight, when the matter will be brought up and another meeting of the directors held on Thursday night when something definite will be done. The great trouble has been that the hospital has been taking care of the patients from the surrounding district regardless of remuneration, and in consequence a very small percentage of the patients have paid anything for their treatment. Consequently the institution has had to depend entirely upon the grant from the Saskatchewan government and private donations. Not more than twenty per cent. of the patients treated came from the town or Lloydminster. Yet the people of the town have had to pay the cost of running the hospital and the burden has become more than they can bear.

STRATHCONA NEWS

STRATHCONA COUNCIL IN SESSION LAST NIGHT

Little Business of Importance Came Before Meeting—Several of the Aldermen Absent—The Estimates For Coming Year Further Discussed.

Last night's Strathcona council meeting was not productive of any business of importance. Ald. Somerville was not present and Aldermen Tipton and Elliott retired before the session adjourned. Some interesting discussions might have arisen over several of the communications, but these were left over until next meeting.

The Communications.

D. F. McHardy and others petitioned the council for a sidewalk and boulevard on the north side of Fourth avenue, north between Fourth and Fifth streets east. As the petition was not the regular prescribed form it was referred to the signers.

The Forest City Paving Company, Regina, wrote offering to tender on concrete sidewalks and a number of other communications, with reference to accounts were filed.

J. C. Keenan, of Toronto offered to do any work in connection with installation of electric lights, etc. The letter was filed.

Dr. Archibald, medical health officer, reported on the claim of Dr. Green for $16 for services in the treatment of an employee injured last summer on city work. He reported that the charge was quite reasonable, and that he had understood that the city were to pay the account.

Letters were received from H. A. Magoon, Hopkins & James, and an affidavit from Ex-Ald. R. A. Hulbert with reference to the awarding of plans for the new hospital. Mr. Magoon stated that he would be glad to have the work previously awarded to the former firm of Magoon, Hopkins & James; Hopkins & James stated that they thought they were entitled to the job; and Mr. Hulbert in his affidavit stated that last year's council had negotiated with Mr. James as the representative of the firm, and it was understood when the contract was let that he should have the superintendence of the construction. These communications were filed for consideration later in the meeting.

Mesdames Thos. Richards and Hotson wrote repudiating the version given by City Solicitor Jamieson at a council meeting of the difference between the legislative committee and the city representatives when the amendment to the Strathcona charter was being considered. The ladies claimed that the city solicitor had used his official position to defeat the causes of the amended charter with reference to women's franchise.

This letter was left over until next meeting for discussion.

The Week's Accounts.

The following accounts were submitted and ordered to be paid:

Reports of Committees.

Ald. Baalim for the industrial committee reported recommending the donation of not more than $700 for a joint exhibit at the Dominion Exhibition at Calgary to be known as the Edmonton and Strathcona exhibit. The report was adopted.

Ald. Bush for the police committee reported progress on the police investigation.

Ald. Tipton for the license and by-law committee reported that the progress being made on the dog license by-law was slow owing to the many difficulties, with which he was being confronted. He expected at the next meeting to be able to present two or three by-laws for consideration.

The Hospital Plans.

Ald. Sheppard moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott, that in case of the new hospital being proceeded with on the present plans, the superintendence be given to Messrs. Hopkins & James.

Alderman Cameron strongly protested against the country tying themselves up to any architects at the present time.

Ald. Bush took the same view as Ald. Cameron. The contract between the city and the old firm did not necessarily fall through because the firm was dissolved.

Alderman Cameron moved, seconded by Alderman Richards, that the matter be left over till more thoroughly considered.

Alderman Sheppard spoke in support of his motion strongly urging that the work of superintendence be given to Hopkins & James in case the work was proceeded with.

After some further discussion the amendment of Alderman Cameron to leave the matter over till next meeting was put to the meeting and lost on the following vote being taken:

Ayes—Cameron, Richards and Bush. Nays—Sheppard, Tipton, Elliott and Baalim.

The main motion was then carried on the same division.

A resolution was passed giving the Imperial Bank power to stamp debentures payable at par at Montreal, etc., was passed, the previous resolution to the same effect having been unsatisfactory to the bank.

The question of renewing the leases of the hospital and the nuisance grounds was discussed and it was agreed that both be confirmed if satisfactory arrangements can be made.

The council then went into committee on the estimates, which were considered for some time.

SERIOUS FIRE LAST NIGHT.

The fire brigade were called out at nine o'clock last night for a blaze in the house of Dr. J. C. Wainwright on Main street south. The fire had spread to a shed in the rear of the house when the brigade arrived. When the firemen arrived the shed, filled with undertaking material, including coffins, a hearse and carriages, was in flames, and the fire had spread to the adjoining house occupied by Richard Wainwright and the three were in flames. For some time the brigade worked hard and eventually got the fire under control, though both residences as well as the undertaking building were badly gutted. Most of the furniture was removed from the house without serious injuries, but a large amount of the undertaking stock was ruined. The loss is placed at between two and three thousand dollars, partly covered by insurance. The fire is supposed to have started from a defective flue in the rear of Dr. J. C. Wainwright's house, where it was first noticed by Mr. Ross, who was passing on his way to his home. Nobody was in the house at the time, but he gave the alarm at the adjoining residence, and then ran to Wainwright's livery barn, where he sent in a call to the brigade.

McKay received a telegram from Premier Laurier saying, "This matter is news to me, but if the effect of the bill is as you state an invasion of provincial rights the bill will not be allowed to pass." Mr. McKay objected to the resolution saying it was a reflection on the Federal government, but this Premier Whitney denied.

WOMAN'S HOME LIFE.

The danger that alms, at foundation of home life is the who has no home duties. She then very soon cease to have in home interests. Many people s to fancy that because a woman highly cultured, takes a keen and lightened interest in all questions the day, and takes part in all various movements that are go on in the great world around her must and does lose all interest liking for for home duties. Ra idea is quite a mistaken one, for it a well known fact that many of most talented women have been the same time the most domestic

And by this word we do not m one whose sole conversation is the or imaginary iniquities of her ants, and whose thoughts have wider range than the nursery. would be to live a narrow self-ce life, which is certainly not conde to the wise ordering of a house and the comfort and happiness of husband. No one would do the and day with a woman to be a "hous frau," with no other inte life than housework. Such a life is also dead, or at any rate is devo of a natural desire. Life is open our wider roads and new vistas women.

The doors that lead into the great world outside the home are no longer carefully closed against her, and th is as it should be; but at the same time all those who have the welfare at heart regret to see her drift away from her home duties. It is somewhat the fashion nowadays with some people although fortunately not with the majority, to speak slighting tones of home and home duties, as if a home meant merely four walls. Such talk as this is a sor of pose with the speakers, and show evidence of a very narrow mental outlook.

They are trying, though perhaps unwittingly, to lower womanhood from the high position Nature intended it to fill, for does not the future of our race lie in the hands of women, and does not the moulding of their character begin in the home? Too much is talked about the worries of wives and the difficulties of servants and housekeeping. If less were said, less would be thought about them, for the continual touching upon a subject so truly tends to keep it alive, but often sometimes even gives it a fictitious existence, so that many women begin to think that they actually are in this evil case, although they do not see it, before they had it pointed out to them. It cannot be too strongly urged, not only for the sake of this and of succeeding generations, that every woman in the land, be she rich or poor, should be trained in the love of and imbued with a pride in the home and the duties connected with home.

HIS FIRST JOKE.

There is a man in the west whose wife, bubbling up continuously, is so frequently quoted wherever men get together that strangers in the land hearing a new joke promptly enquire if that is another on his.

Recently this man and his young son and heir were travelling. They were separated for a day and while the father was enjoying an official luncheon whose delights he afterwards detailed, the boy was trying to pick out a suitable meal from the items of a hotel menu. Comparing notes when they met, the boy enumerated the courses of his luncheon in which "country sausage" was an outstanding feature.

"Um-m, and how did the 'country sausage please you?"

"Well, Dad," confided the chip of the old block, "it may have come from the country, but it surely knocked mother's town tea much for its own good—or mine."

PRIZES FOR ESSAYS.

A. C. Flumerfelt, a well known resident of British Columbia, is offering a number of prizes for essays on specific subjects bearing on British Columbia, more particularly in reference to labor problems. The idea proved to be a good one, and a large number of papers were received, and many of these were afterwards published in various newspapers and in pamphlet form.

Mr. Flumerfelt explains his plan as follows:—

"I will offer prizes to the value of $350, (Three hundred and fifty dollars) as follows:—

PRINCE HELIE'S SUIT.

New York, Mar. 31—Having won her consent to wed him, Prince Helie De Sagan today is registered as Mr. Bertrand Talmain, of Paris, at the Bellevue Stratford hotel in Philadelphia, while Madame Anna Gould is at the New York home of the members of her family for consent to her new matrimonial venture.

But some ground has been gained probable from the apparently authentic statement made by Count Boni de Gould family that Miss Helen Gould has become reconciled to the match. But there is still the element of George Gould to be won, and as he is the principal custodian of the millions now lost to Count Castellane, his consent is essential.

One of the efforts to placate Mr. Gould is said to have occurred yesterday when at the home of Helen Gould, her brother and would-be Princess Anna met. Just what took place at the gathering could not be ascertained, for when Gould after some hours returned to his apartments at the Plaza he absolutely refused to discuss it.

The presence of the Prince in Philadelphia is considered to be only part of a plan whereby he will make his acquaintances in Washington for the present. Tomorrow Mrs. Geo. Gould and probably Madame Gould will leave for Virginia, and as Washington is only a step away it is considered not at all unlikely that further courtship and perhaps marriage may occur in a southern resort.

THE AMERICAN BISON SOCIETY WAKES UP

Since Canada Has Secured Famous Pablo Herd United States Undertakes To Secure Remaining Buffalo on the Continent.

Winnipeg, March 30.—The announcement that Dr. Wm. Hornaday, the president of the American Bison Society, had completed the purchase of the Flathead reservation in Northwest Montana for the purpose of preserving a herd of bison, is a good deal more interesting than it seems to be on the face of it.

The Flathead reservation is a district which extends from Ravalli, a station some 80 miles west of Missoula, almost to Kalispel, and upon this reservation Michel El Pablo bred the herd of buffalo which were bought by the Dominion government during the spring of last year. The herd numbered in all about 760, and at the time of writing some 450 are grazing at Lamont, a few miles east of Edmonton, on the Canadian Northern railway. These buffaloes were brought into Canada in two consignments. The first consignment was transported in the month of May, 1907, and in this consignment there were 358 animals. The second portion of the herd was transported to Lamont during the month of September of last year. The price which was paid by the Dominion government was $250 per head, and the cost of the undertaking to Canada was, speaking roughly, in the neighborhood of $500,000. The purchase of the herd was adversely criticized at the time by the members of the opposition, but even the most unenlightened person on the Conservative side of the House of Ottawa has been forced to admit that among the many clever things which the Hon. Frank Oliver has done since he has been the minister of the interior, this deal was one of the best. There is a certain amount of humor in the statement that the American Bison Society has now decided to place a herd of twenty bison on the Flathead reservation, after the Pablo herd has been sold and delivered to the Dominion government. All buffalo outside the Yellowstone Park, there are not more than 200 buffaloes in the United States. There is a small herd at Kalispel; there are about 50 or 60 in Oklahoma; there may be throughout the territory over which waves the Stars and Stripes enough buffaloes to make up to 200.

But, there are no more.

The Day After the Fair.

The expression, "the day after the fair," is wayworn and tired, and is not an expression which should be used by any person who claims to write intelligently, but it is the only word which fits the situation of the American government in purchasing the Flathead reservation for the purpose of breeding buffaloes. The government of the United States had many opportunities of buying the Pablo herd, and from time to time approached El Pablo with offers not much, or even more, than the Dominion government eventually paid. But the U. S. A. government made one mistake, and this mistake was not the result of diplomacy. It was the selection of fashionable El Pablo as a half-breed, and, as is the case with all half-breeds, he is touchy to a degree. Also his wife is a full-blooded Shoshone Indian, and the family circle, as may readily be imagined, are difficult to coerce.

When the government of Washington offered to buy the beard El Pablo refused the price that was tendered, or rather to be more correct, he asked for time in which to consider the proposal. This tardiness on the part of El Pablo did not please the executive and they wrote to him and stated that if he did not accept the offer which had been made him they would throw the Flathead reservation for settlement, and would send surveyors to divide it up into homesteads. This threat did not appal El Pablo in the very least, and he replied that under no circumstances would he sell the herd to the States, no matter what price they offered. About this time Alexander Ayotte, the Dominion immigration agent for Montana, who has been in Missoula for a number of years, got wind of the trouble which had taken place between the government of the U. S. A. and El Pablo, and he wired to the Hon. Frank Oliver that the purchase of the buffaloes was possible. Negotiations went on for many moons between Mr. Ayotte and El Pablo before the deal was accomplished.

How Douglas Negotiated.

Mr. Howard Douglas, formerly superintendent of the National Park at Banff, now Dominion Parks Commissioner, was sent down to Montana by the minister of the interior to superintend the shipment, and from the time that he crossed the line to the moment that he returned, he encountered the most strenuous opposition.

Not only did the Missoulian, the Helena Independent, the Missoula Herald, the Great Falls Tribune, the Butte Miner, the Anaconda Standard, and all the papers in the state of Montana suggest in their editorials that the buffaloes should not be allowed to leave the country, but the people of Missoula went farther than that. They took upon themselves to make these six Mexican cowboys who were in charge of the buffaloes intoxicated beyond the utmost confines of delight. When they had succeeded in accomplishing this somewhat easy task, they proceeded to break open the box cars and let the buffaloes loose upon the prairies.

But once more the astuteness of Mr. Oliver, through the medium of Howard Douglas, was exhibited.

Things were quiet in Missoula when an ill-chosen word or a hasty gesture would have precipitated matters beyond the possibility of remedy. Mr. Douglas saved the situation.

"If," said Mr. Douglas, "you do this if you let these buffaloes loose on the prairie, you will not damage or hurt or in any way affect the Dominion government at all. The only person

The minister of the interior has stated in the House at Ottawa that any portion of the Dominion, or any city, or any province which has available grounds whereon the buffaloes can live and move, and have their being, can obtain as many of the animals as they need by application to the department of the interior.

In the face of all these facts, and in the face of the real history of the purchase from Pablo, as related here for the first time, the average man may be excused if he smiles when he reads that the government of the United States have purchased the Flathead reservation for the purpose of placing buffaloes thereon to the number of 20.

Murderer is Insane.

Brampton, Ont., April 1.—When John Tearse, immigrant, was placed on trial today charged with murder in shooting a farmer, Wm. Curry last November, Crown Prosecutor G. T. Blackstock took a most unusual course. His address to the jury was practically to tell them that Tearse would be proved by the crown's medical evidence to be insane, due to epilepsy and that the duty of the jury would be to determine what should be done to take care of him. The crown he said, was not seeking to take his life but was actuated by humane motives to bring out all the facts.

THE MAIL'S THREAT TO THE INDUSTRIAL WORKER.

The failure of the Government to secure reciprocity with the United States has been made the theme of factious criticism from time to time. Always, however, the critics have made it clear that the failure was as far as possible from being a disappointment to them. On the contrary, it has afforded them ground for professed gratification. The Mail and Empire gives a new turn to the argument by protesting that we have already too much reciprocity with the United States. It is outraged because we bought last year $168,000,000 worth of goods south of the boundary. According to the Mail this ought not to be. We have, it thinks, entirely too much dealing with the people of that country. According to the Mail the problem is whether we shall continue our present course or whether we shall adopt a new "national policy." On this the issue is clear. If the people of Canada want to be prevented from doing business with their neighbors they have only to put the Mail and Empire's friends in power.

The conclusion of the Mail as to the results of our trading with the United States in particular and with the world in general is decidedly amusing when viewed in the light of the facts. According to the Mail:

No one can doubt that the large importations of goods which we ought to make is a serious matter for the Canadian workman. It deprives him of employment. It compels him to look elsewhere for the opportunity of earning his living. It gives us depression. It places factories on short time. It brings on distress, and is responsible for the sufferings which have to be relieved by charitable contributions. Nor is the artisan the only sufferer. All branches of trade participate in the loss. There can be no doubt that the let-alone policy now ruling at Ottawa is answerable for the conditions we are experimenting.

To boldly state that in the past decade Canadian factories have been working short time; that factory employees have been driven from employment and forced to seek elsewhere the means of livelihood, that depression has occurred in industrial life and distress produced which demanded the relief of charity is a reversal of facts that cannot readily produce other than a smile from the man who has lived in the country and kept reasonably in touch with the phenomenal current of industrial expansion and activity. He knows better; and his knowledge is borne out by the facts.

What are the facts? For many years up to 1896 the friends of the Mail and Empire determined our tariff policy. Professedly that policy was designed to prevent importation to the end that home manufactures might be encouraged. But it is significant that during all those years the people of Canada were never favored with an industrial census, showing how many manufacturing establishments were in the country, how many hands they employed, what they paid them, what they produced, and whether they were increasing or decreasing in number. This may have been because the industries were not considered numerous enough or important enough to justify the expense; or because the statistical tables would not bear out the supposition that the "national policy" was doing what it was claimed to be doing for the increase of manufacturing establishments. On the one hand this suggests that the friends opposite did not hold a very high estimate of the importance of the industrial interests; on the other that they did not dare publish the results of their policy as revealed in official figures. At any event, by not publishing the returns they have prevented any systematic or definite comparison of those results as against the results under the policy of their successors.

The present Government caused an industrial census to be taken in 1900 and another in 1905. From these may be gathered the general advancement or retrogression of industries under their policy, and by calculating backward we may reach an intelligent conclusion as to the condition of industries when the Opposition gentlemen went out of power in 1896.

In 1905 there were 15795 industrial establishments in Canada, with an aggregate capital of $446,000,000, employing over 302,000 hands, paying them more than $165,000,000 per year wages, and producing $718,352,903 worth of goods. In the same year the total importations of dutiable and free goods, coin and bullion, amounted to a little over $300,000,000. There is not much evidence here that the Canadian manufacturer and industrial worker were being ousted from the home market by the purchase of foreign made goods.

In 1900 our establishments employing five hands or over gave work to 339,000 employees, and paid them wages amounting to $113,000,000 odd hundred dollars. In 1905 they gave employment to 383,000 workers and paid them in wages $162,000,000. In the five years the employees increased 13 per cent. and their wages increased 43 per cent. Putting it mildly, this is scarcely proof that the "large importation of goods" deprives the Canadian workman of employment, that it "compels him to look elsewhere for the opportunity of earning his living, that it "gives us depression," that it "places factories on short time," that it "brings on distress" or produces a condition of general weakness. It is doubtful if any country on earth save free trade Britain ever witnessed so great an industrial expansion in so short a period.

But there is another side to the case. Our industries were increasing from 1896 to 1900, as well as from 1900 to 1905. It is reasonable to suppose that they increased half as much during the former period as during the latter. If so, then when our opposition friends went out of power in 1896 they left the country with only $253,000,000 industrial capital; employing only 317,000 workmen; paying them only $80,000,000 a year wages, and producing only $369,000,000 worth of goods. And this after seventeen years of the "national policy" and the rigid exclusion of these devastating imports!

Supposing that in 1878 Canada had not a cent of capital invested in factories and employed not one hand in industrial work. Then in seventeen years of national policy we invested $253,000,000 millions in factories, came to employ 317,000 hands, when we paid $80,000,000 a year in wages and who produced $369,000,000 worth of goods; while at the present rate of increase, in seventeen years of the supposedly ruinous policy of importing part of our goods we would invest $1,300,000,000 more in factories, come to employ 457,000 hands, pay them $257,000,000 per year in wages and produce $1,234,000 worth of products every twelve months.

Unless we are much mistaken this is the kind of "distress" the industrial employees of the country most want. It certainly is the kind they did not get under the "national policy" and would not get under the resumption of that stupendous fraud. The Mail and Empire is authority for assuring them that they would get the resumption if its friends got into power.

REVEALED.

The evidence of J. G. Turriff, M.P., before the Public Accounts Committee corroborated by the testimony of his secretary, puts Mr. Ames and his scandal hunting associates in a position no self-respecting men could have been forced to occupy. For months these gentlemen have subjected the former Commissioner of Dominion Lands to an unrestrained outpouring of the vilest insinuation. Lacking the manliness to formulate accusations and challenge their disproof they have held insinuating language to ward him which no degree of moral obliquity on his part could justify, and which could never fall from the lips of other than unscrupulous partizans. Not only so, in the Public Accounts Committee they have steadily declined to call Mr. Turriff to give evidence touching the matters in which they professed to smell offence, and have quite as steadily heaped technical objections in the way of other members of the committee who would have called him. But Mr. Turriff has been heard and has categorically denied every imputation which the remarks of Mr. Ames and his associates aimed at him. The conclusion is irresistible that the protests of these gentlemen against the calling of Mr. Turriff arose from knowledge or belief that his testimony would scatter the suspicions they had exhaled and leave them exposed to the contumely that awaits the slanderer. In trying to escape this fate they have met a worse. Preaching to be discovered slanderers they pursued a course whose exposition leaves them convicted both of slandering Mr. Turriff and of trying to gag him lest they be found out. The history of the Canadian Parliament records unfortunately nothing lower than the conduct of a man to man. No more than to be many degrees possible below this.

Kaiser Has No Objections.

Venice, March 31.—The German emperor before leaving for Corfu last night said that a satisfactory settlement will be reached in connection with the appointment of David Jayne Hill, American ambassador to Berlin, as he had no personal objections to him. The statement that Dr. Hill was opposed to Germany during the Hague conference, he believed to be unfounded. Dr. Hill as American minister at the Hague having little active part in the conference.

THE FALLACIES OF MR. FOSTER

Ottawa, Mar. 30—Replying to Mr. Foster, the minister of customs (Hon. William Paterson), said Mr. Foster had not disproven the minister of agriculture's words. The text stood on all its original strength. For it was impossible for Mr. Foster to explain away the fact that when the government took office they applied business methods to the administration of affairs; things mended, and had gone on mending ever since. He admitted there was progress under the Conservatives, but even in years the foreign trade increased by $50,000,000. But, in an equal length of time under the Laurier administration, it increased $350,000,000. It was true as Mr. Foster pointed out, that Sir Richard Cartwright and others said the Conservative government spent too much in 1896. Not enough to pay the ordinary expenses of government could be raised. For capital expenditure they had to borrow abroad and add to the debt. And Liberals said: "If the revenue is not to exceed $38,000,000 you must keep beneath that; for the country is on the highway to ruin, when it cannot pay its ordinary running expenses."

Circumstances today were different. The government was able to raise enough and have a $16,000,000 or $19,000,000 surplus. The expenditures had been large. He defied it. But he would not if the government had had to increase the rate of taxation or borrow. Those spending millions on capital account—developing, facilitating and cheapening transportation and making improvements in every province—they had lowered the rate of taxation.

Mr. Foster had a fit of depression when he thought of maturing loans. (All contracted, interpolated the finance minister, under the Conservatives.) He spoke of enormous expenditures, additions to the debt and all that. But what would be the additions, when his party carried out the Halifax platform and bought up all the railways, telephones and telegraphs? What would be the annual expenditure when the government was called on to working these services? A thousand millions?

They had not heard much about the Halifax platform lately. He feared that William of the "World" had the Conservatives by the hand.

"Higher and higher white with your taxation, he says! Marvellous people, the Canadian people!" exclaimed Mr. Paterson ironically. "Blest in the direction of taxation, as the hon. gentleman has pictured, and yet they are asking by tens of millions to their deposits in the savings banks and in every home there is increasing comfort."

The average tax paid in 1896 was $18.28 on every $100 of dutiable and free imports for consumption; and in 1906, $15.75—14 per cent. reduction.

It was possible Mr. Foster might be minister of finance in a Conservative government. But a man who solemnly told people that an increase of revenue was proof positive of an increase in the rate of taxation, was unsafe to trust with anybody's business.

No better illustration of the fallacy of the statement could be had than the operation of the post office. The tax imposed for carrying letters in 1896 gave a revenue of $3,000,000. To-day the revenue was $6,000,000, according to Mr. Foster, this was proof positive that the rate of taxation had been increased, whereas the fact was that the postal rate had been reduced from 3c to 2c in one case and from 5c to 2c in another. Business had so increased that the government had double the revenue. So it was with the customs. The rate of duty was lowered; but more goods came in and the revenue increased. The revenue from land, likewise, increased because of the very fact of that reduction in the rate of taxation. Any man should be able to comprehend that; and the man who did not, had in his heart fiscal follies so great that no nation could entrust him with the administration of its finances.

Mr. Foster also laid down the maximum that all capital expenditure should be covered by borrowing abroad. The government did not think so. He had the surplus, extended under a lower rate of taxation for the purpose. This money, applied to the development of the country and its resource, was a means of reproducing wealth itself.

In this connection, Mr. Foster charged, as a scandal, the bonus to the C. P. R. for the building of the Crow's Nest Pass railway, which was simply amusing in the light of the fact that he voted for it himself. The bonus was larger than usual. And it was so, because it had attached to it conditions, which had been of great advantage to the country. The railway company agreed to reduce its wheat freight rates, over its entire system, 3 cents per 100 lbs. and gave the government 50,000 acres of coal lands. The latter was kept in reserve by the government, so that if the price of coal rose about $2, they might enter the business themselves and put a check on any attempt to hold up the public. In five years the reduction of the wheat freight rate and the influence of the government's action on the coal industry had placed back in the people's pockets more than was given to the C. P. R. to build the line. The country had been opened up; towns and cities brought into existence and a market for eastern manufacturers created.

Mr. Foster spoke of the Yukon railway deal. If there was anything the Conservatives ought to be ashamed of, it was their conduct concerning that. A reputable firm obtained, with alternate grants of lands, to build 150 miles of railway; so that Canadians might have the benefit of their own territory. The opposition had sufficient influence in the senate to defeat the measure by embodying the bargain. Consequently, Canadians had to reach their own territory by passing through a bit of another nation, with a customs barrier, giving advantages to Seattle, Tacoma and San Francisco in the trade of the country, which might have been secured for Canadian cities.

The opposition denounced the deal as a scandal. Mr. Foster, pointing out that there was now a favorable majority in the senate, said the government would never venture such a proposition again. No. Where could a syndicate be found in Canada today to do what that syndicate agreed to do—even it offered everything formerly proposed and given a million dollars besides? Every foot of the land the government agreed to grant was there yet and was there a man opposite, he Mr. Paterson asked, who would give $100 for the whole of it?

Mr. Foster, when speaking of the Arctic expedition, said he did not believe in that kind of thing, he would trust to diplomacy. The government believed in trusting to occupancy. The American took advantage of occupancy at Skagway, and what might have been the result of the Alaskan boundary arbitration, if Canada had had an independent highway into the Yukon, he would not venture to say, but the chance was gone.

The Conservatives in the last eleven years of their administration spent $80,000,000 on capital account and borrowed $62,000,000; the Liberals in a similar length of time, spent $127,000,000 and borrowed $3,000,000.

Mr. Foster's political economy seemed to be this: "You have great revenues coming in; they come in through increased imports; increased imports are a sign of decay of the country; a revenue of $60,000,000 is an indication of a higher rate of taxation." Logically his remedy would be to put the rate up 100 per cent., which the member for Leeds advocated, and shut out imports altogether, and thus get no revenue.

The finance minister said: "No. We lower the rates as far as we can, consistent with raising a revenue, and by doing this, promote the welfare of the people. If there is more than enough to provide for the ordinary expenditures of government, we will spend it on capital account in developing the avenues of transportation, by which to reduce the cost of transportation and thus every dollar we spend will go directly back into the pockets of the consumers."

Then Mr. Foster made the absurd statement that the prime minister said the Grand Trunk Pacific would be built for $13,000,000. "Is it possible," asked Mr. Paterson, "for anyone to sink so low as did the hon. gentleman when he made that statement? That hon. gentleman does not care what he says. He knows that any hon. leader detailed the bargain that was made, showed how we were to build the 1,000 miles of railroad ourselves and guarantee the bonds on the mountain section, and how, for seven years after its completion, we were to pay the interest on these bonds, and how after that the G. T. P. were to take the road over and pay us an amount annually equal to the interest on the money borrowed to build the road, so that after seven years we would no longer have to find the money to pay the interest, because the G. T. P. would pay it. And he estimated that the accumulated interest during the seven years might possibly amount to $13,000,000."

Mr. Foster also misrepresented the fiscal plank in the Liberal platform. The party never advocated free trade as it was in England. The prime minister, it was true, expressed admiration for it. But the policy promulgated was a revenue tariff—a tariff without the protective principle and reduced to the needs of the country. The imports, under it, had grown from $100,000,000 to $300,000,000. Conservatives, if they had their way, would shut those goods out. That was protection.

The revision of the tariff had resulted in the trade with foreign nations advancing from $249,000,000 to $640,000,000; and the preference to Great Britain had been justified in the trade from England having doubled. "Free trade!" exclaimed Mr. Paterson; "yes, three times the trade we had before." (Cheers.)

"Land for the settler," was another plank. Hon. gentlemen opposite said: "Ah, there is another of your planks, gone." The land for the settler?

"Yes, they may sneer as they like," went on Mr. Paterson, "and jibe as they like in an endeavor to make people believe that is not the case. Even in the sale of the Saskatchewan Valley Land Co., about which they talk so much, the cardinal principle was that the company were bound to put settlers on the land. Did they? They could not have got it otherwise. 'Land for the settlers'—how has that plank been carried out? Here is a record of homestead entries granted from July 1, 1905, to June 30, 1905:—

July 1, 1905	1,692
Dec. 31, 1896	1,857
Dec. 31, 1897	2,304
Dec. 31, 1898	4,848
Dec. 31, 1899	6,969
June 30, 1900	7,420
June 30, 1901	8,167
June 30, 1902	14,673
June 30, 1903	31,393
June 30, 1904	26,957
June 30, 1905	30,819
Total	135,284

"The record of 1906 shows 40,000 more settled on the land. How can the opposition, in face of such facts, say the government have not carried out that plank in the Liberal platform?"

PEARST AFTER MAYORALTY.

William Randolph Still Aspires to Chief Magistracy of New York.

New York, March 31.—It is not the intention of William R. Hearst to run for the Presidency on the Independence party ticket, because he expects to be mayor of New York City for eighteen months after July 1. That at least is the understanding of Hearst's followers in the new party reformed in Chicago a month ago. Statements to this effect were made today by those who are believed to know Hearst's views. It was emphatically declared by these spokesmen that Hearst expects to beat Mayor McClellan in the courts when the recounting of ballots cast in 1905 majority election begins.

The Independence party intends to put a National ticket in the field this year, and that there will be an equal probability will be headed either by Governor Folk, of Missouri, District Attorney Langdon, of San Francisco, or Thomas L. Hisgen, of Massachusetts.

Indigestion
Stomach trouble is but a symptom of, and not in itself a true disease. We think of Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Indigestion as diseases, yet they are symptoms only of a certain specific form of stomach weakness.
Was this fact that first correctly told Dr. Shoop in his search of that very popular remedy, Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Going direct to the stomach, does away with that nervous and faint or bloated feeling after eating. Makes you feel that original and healthful craving, by which hunger is unmistakably known to be had.
For stomach distress, bloating, biliousness, bad breath and aching complexion, try Dr. Shoop's Restorative—Tablets or Liquid—and see for yourself what it can and will do. We sell and cheerfully recommend

The report made for the paving and track-laying from the Bitulithic company ($15.28½) is a reduction on the price at which the contractors let the other of 98½ cents, being the reduced offer the company made on condition that they be allowed to give a guarantee for the pavement for only one year instead ten. The report of the city engineer recommending the acceptance of the tender of Evans, Coleman & Evans to provide the special rails for the curve in the street railway at the intersection of Jasper avenue and Namayo avenue at a net cost of $3,100.55 [illegible] Edmonton was filed, the council deciding not to make this purchase at present, but to allow the paving of Namayo avenue to proceed without installing this curve. The engineer stated that the curve could be laid at a small additional cost after the pavement was completed and when the curve was necessary for the operation of the street railway.

To Increase Police Force.

The commissioners presented a report recommending the increasing of the police force by the addition of two mounted constables and recommending an increase of $5 per month in the present Sergeant Griffith's salary, and that he be allowed two suits of plain clothes per year. The report recommended also authorizing the Chief of Police to continue the engagement of a second detective should he find it necessary to do so. The report was adopted. Two horses will be purchased at a cost of $300. The second detective will be assigned to duty in the outskirts of the city.

Alderman Anderson: It seems to me that the beats are not well arranged. A policeman is assigned to a beat between 8th and 19th streets and another for Peace and Allenbeen avenues, while the whole east end is embraced in one beat. It is well known the east end is much more populous than the west, and consequently needs greater police protection."

The Mayor explained that the matter of patroling the city and the assignment of "beats" was entirely in the hands of the Chief of Police. If he were not providing protection as the districts demanded, he would have to.

A report of the commissioners recommending that action be taken, as advised by the medical health officer, looking toward the removal of the stock yards of Gainer & Son in the west end of the city, was approved.

Another report from the commissioners referring to the widening of the streets leading from Rat Creek Boulevard was filed.

Mayor Congratulated.

Before adjournment, Alderman Gariepy took occasion to refer to Mayor McDougall's appointment to the Senate of the University of Alberta, and he moved a resolution expressing to the Mayor the council's congratulations on his being called to this body. Alderman Gariepy considered it a distinct honor, particularly since it was the first senate of the new university and in this respect of historical interest. His Worship thanked the council for the congratulatory resolution, stating at the same time that he was proud of his position on the senate of the university, and that he expected that it would be of great benefit to the province.

RED DEER CANDIDATE SPEAKS IN INNISFAIL

Dr. Clark, Liberal Candidate, is Well Received in Innisfail—He Deals With Geo. F. Root's, Conservative Candidate, Strictures on Various Questions.

On Friday night last Dr. Clark, the Liberal candidate for the Red Deer district, addressed a very good audience at the opera house in Innisfail, in which there was quite a sprinkling of ladies. He was supported on the platform by Messrs. F. Constantine (chairman), and R. A. Malcolm. Mme. Humbert also several selections on the piano in her usual high class style. Mr. Constantine in a few short appropriate remarks, opened the meeting by calling on Mr. J. A. Simpson, M.P.P. Mr. Simpson, speaking of Dr. Clark, said the doctor was a farmer and made his living by farming. Speaking on Mr. Root and his recent speech at Innisfail, he took decided strong exception to him mixing with provincial affairs in the manner in which he did. He thought that the explanation of anything that the provincial government might do might safely be left to him to explain. He stated that the provincial government was a business government, composed of business men, and that there was no abler men in the Dominion of Canada than those in the provincial parliament. He backed up his statement by calling attention to the way in which they had handled the telephone business. Hon. Mr. Cushing did not care to talk about building telephone lines; he preferred to build the lines. The chairman then called upon "Dr. Clark, a farmer from Olds."

Candidate Speaks.

Dr. Clark in speaking of the constituency south of Innisfail thought that it would give a good Liberal account of itself at the next poll. He took this opportunity to publicly thank the people of Innisfail, both friends and opponents, for the kind way in which he had been received on this his first visit to Innisfail. As Mr. Root had given his autobiography he would follow his good example and give a little of his own though on the ground of modesty he would rather not. He came from England six years ago, homesteaded, lived three years on his homestead, proved up, got his deeds and had his deeds at Innisfail. He was not only a farmer but a homesteader. His wife and sons also bought land and if they were not born farmers they were living at the business. He humorously stated that he was trying to get out of it by getting into this job. Referring to Mr. Root's personal attacks on Wagner, Leech etc., he said that he had no use for personal attacks. That he had the utmost regard for Mr. Root as a man but as a politician he would accept any advantage offered by him to drive his pointed home. Referring to the report of Mr. Root's meeting at Penhold in the Free Lance, he spoke on Mr. Donald, saying that as he was a Presbyterian and a minister he might be used took as his text, "Why am I a Conservative." McDonald seemed to say this, that the Conservative party had a monopoly on truth and virtue, and he compared it to the Roman Catholic institution which said the Publican. The doctor said that for his part he preferred to go down to Ottawa as the Publican and sinner.

Replying to the statement that the Liberals said that they would make Canada a cheap place to live in, Dr. Clark claimed that they had done so, compared to what it was before Sir Wilfrid Laurier came into power. He did not believe that Sir Wilfrid had made any such statement, but that if he did he had explained what he meant. He instanced how the government had appointed a railway commission and how they had cut down the railroad rates, thereby making it cheaper to travel. He quoted the reductions in the tariff on binder twine and cream separators, thereby making it easier for farmers to buy the necessaries.

How the Promised Land.

When Sir Wilfrid Laurier came into power 12 years ago, Canada was in the background of nations, now it was looked on as the promised land. He made a comparison of the state of Canada 12 years ago and the state of Canada today, showing how it had prospered under the Liberal regime. He claimed that trade under the old Conservative government before the Liberals came into power, was in a stagnant condition. That in 11 Liberal years trade had increased from 231 million dollars to 546 millions. He thought that voters should vote on the merits of the parties. He referred to the financial depression and said that no doubt some of the Conservatives would blame that on the Liberals. But the depression was not only local but world-wide. He quoted the price of national stocks and showed what a proud position Canada was in. Whilst the highest stock of other countries was only 85, Canada's was 95. He then stated that as Mr. Simpson had answered for Mr. Root's excursions into provincial affairs he would pass over them. Touching on what he called Mr. Root's personal scandal, he briefly mentioned the Wagner case. He did not intend to follow such political drivel. He thought the Hon. Frank Oliver was justified in giving the man a second chance and a helping hand when down. Wagner was a respectable man and was reinstated into a place where he had no financial responsibility. He is an excellent linguist and a man very difficult to replace. Referring to the alleged timber scandals, he said he had no appetite for living with gutterscrapings. That the Liberals were getting $38 per square acre for timber lands, whereas the Conservatives sold for $15, was sufficient evidence of the excellence of the timber administration.

The All-Red Route.

Discussing the All-Red Route, he said everybody would be benefitted by it and that this was only common knowledge that he apologized for referring to it and absolutely refused to follow the matter further. Touching on immigration matters he claimed that under the Conservatives the immigration was falling off and that under the Liberals there had been a change and a great increase.

Concerning the question of immigrants having to have a certain amount of money before being allowed to land he stated that Canada was in this following the United States. Besides, it was, in any case, only right and proper that immigrants should have enough money when they landed to see them through properly to their destinations, and keep them until they got employment.

About Rural Free Delivery.

He thought the country was not developed enough yet for rural free delivery and that if it was granted it would be the eastern provinces that would get it. The postal contract which the Liberals had made—there was a deficit when they came into power—would be utterly inadequate to instal a rural free delivery and that it was being used for the purpose of increasing the postal service and opening up new post offices.

Referring to the Autonomy act, he claimed that the country endorsed the act when they returned the Liberals to power with a sweeping majority, and that Manitoba was very pleased because they had not got the same deal. He claimed that Mr. Root was very much out in his figures in connection with the provincial finances, referring to McDonald, who spoke at Mr. Root's meeting at Innisfail, about selling off this land which he claimed the province ought to have, he wanted to know where he would sell all this land. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, he said, was following the policy of Sir John A. Macdonald in this matter.

On the Tariff Question.

Speaking on the tariff question he said that Foster had spent three hours lately in blackballing Sir Wilfrid and his tariff and that Mr. Borden stands for as high a protective tariff against the United States as the Conservatives would like to stand for. Speaking a out the British preference he thought that this was the biggest thing that Sir Wilfrid had done for Canada during his term of office. He agreed with Mr. Root that the manufacturers of the first importance to the country. He said that the Conservatives were a high protectionist party and that the Liberals wanted the tariff for revenue only.

Taking up Mr. Root's statement that England built up her country under 60 years of protection, he read extracts showing the deplorable state of the country at the time of these sixty years. He apologized for having to refer to England at such length. He referred to it because Mr. Root based his argument on it. He wanted to ask Mr. Root why England did not begin with protection 300 years ago. He showed that at the end of the 60 years of protection the manufacturers thought nothing of it and that the farmers were in a bad state. There were numerous bankruptcies. Manufacturers were in a bad state and wages had fallen very low. The repeal of the corn laws was what brought relief. The doctor said that it would be claimed that he was a free trader. He was not, but he was a tariff for revenue man. To referred to an incident at Olds two years ago, when the Canadian manufacturers were passing through. He noticed them dressed in broadcloth and the ladies in satin and silk. Looking around he saw farmers clad in $1.25 overalls and wondered what had gone wrong that the farmers had to be taxed to help out these people in satins and silks. He concluded his address by saying that if his audience wanted to study politics they should study Knutson instead of George F. Root.

H. A. Malcolm called for a hearty vote of thanks for Dr. Clark, which was tendered to him by F. Constantine. The doctor in replying moved a hearty vote of thanks to Mme. Humbert for the excellent music she had rendered. After the singing of the National anthem the meeting dispersed.

HERMIT IN THE NORTH.

Captain Mikkelsen Tells of Man Who Has Buried Himself.

Seattle, Wash., March 31.—Four hundred miles north of Point Barrow, far, far beyond the bands of civilized people, lives an old white hermit, who, at one time, went the pace in San Francisco, lost and squandered a sum of $100,000 and then left for the wilds of the north to hide himself forever from the torture begotten of the desire to practice his old pastimes.

This strange being was encountered by Capt. Bjarne Mikkelsen, the famous young Arctic explorer, who headed the Anglo-American Arctic expedition in search of a great archipelago believed to exist in Beaufort sea. The captain came across the hermit while he was on his way from Herschel island to Nome. He obtained the hermit's name, but he refuses to divulge it, saying that the man's family was prominent in the States and some members of it are well-known on the Pacific Coast.

The hermit has taken to himself a native wife and is raising a large family. One boy is seventeen years old, and this fact alone goes to show the length of time this strangest of modern human beings has spent on the bleak coast of the Arctic ocean looking over the desolate prospect of his environment, and his present and past.

He will spend the remainder of his life in the wild region chosen by him.

Suppress Freedom of Speech.

Vienna, Austria, April 1.—Last night loud and excited cries of "Down with" were heard in the streets of Brux, Bohemia, and when the old age pension, one of the speakers criticized the action of the authorities. The police commissioner, who is always present at public gatherings, immediately declared the meeting closed and gendarmes cleared the hall. At another meeting in the same city, held by workingmen a speaker from Prague violently attacked the state and military authorities. The police commissioner ordered this meeting closed and the offending speaker was arrested and handed over to the district court.

"THE STORE OF HIGH-CLASS MERCHANDISE"

WITH THE FARMERS

AFRAID OF OUR FLOUR.

New York, N.Y., March 31.—At the banquet of the flour trade of New York, A. L. Gortmann, secretary of the Millers' National Federation, gave an account of what that body had done in the past for the milling interests, and what is now being done for the mutual interest of millers and flour dealers. In the course of his address he said: "We are demanding at Washington facilities by which United States millers can grind flour as cheap and export the flour, and thus meet Canadian competition, which is taking away a large, but profitable trade with the United Kingdom and West Indies, as it already done with South Africa and other British provinces."

FINE SEED OATS.

Fort William, Ont. March 31.—Three hundred thousand bushels of seed oats from Scotland, England and Belgium has passed through Fort William for use in the west.

It was at first intended to stop all the cars off at Fort William and have them cleaned, but on inspection it was found that the oats were perfectly clean, so they came right through to the west.

Grain men who have inspected the grain say that it is the finest lot that ever been seen here, and with the majority of the farmers using it this spring for seed next fall's crop of oats should be far in excess of any hitherto harvested.

TO REPLENISH THE SOIL.

Ottawa, Ont., March 31.—Frank T. Shutt, chemist of the Central experimental farm, gave evidence before the agricultural committee in Ottawa, speaking upon the methods of replenishing the deteriorated soil of the west. He emphasized the fact that continued cropping from year to year in spite of the expedient of summer fallowing, was bound sooner or later to diminish the productive power of the soil, and farmers should consider while it is not too late how to conserve that power.

FLOUR MILLS IN JAPAN.

Vancouver, B.C., March 31.—Reports from Japan are to the effect that the law of 1906, increasing the entry on imported flour, has materially developed the milling industry in that country. Many new mills have been established, their output being 10,000 bags. United States and Canadian flour accumulated in and near Yokohama is estimated at 200,000 bags, and there is a tendency to lower prices. A keen competition between imported and domestic flour is looked for this spring and summer prices will drop still lower. Japanese mills are making big profits. Some are paying 100 per cent. profit a year, and another 25 per cent.

MARKET SQUARE PRICES.

The supply of farm and garden produce on the market square still continues to be fairly plentiful. Neither the supply nor the demand in any particular lines have gone to excess and as a consequence there are very few changes in the prevailing market prices.

Hay and green feed are being offered for sale in large quantities on the market square and there are no indications that there will be any diminution in the supply this week, as the majority of the farmers have plenty of feed.

In grain there is very little business done either on the market square or at the elevators for there is practically grain in the country for sale. Oats on the market square is quoted at from 32c to 40c per bushel and feed wheat 35c. The price charged wheat retailed at the feed stores, however, is from 75 to 80c per bushel.

In dressed meats there was considerable activity, particularly in dressed beef. Dressed pork runs from 6 to 7 1-2c in price and beef about 6 1-2c per lb. for a side.

A fair amount of fuel, both wood and coal, is being brought to the market for sale. The coal ranges in price from $3.25 to $4.50 per ton, and the wood, which is sold by the load is quoted at from $2.50 to $3.

The following are ruling prices on the market square during the past week:—

TUESDAY'S GRAIN MARKETS.

Winnipeg, March 30—Cables were higher and there was a two million increase in the visible supply and at the opening there was a little upturn and the market looked stronger, but it did not last, and as the morning advanced the market fell away sharply, showing a very slight reaction at the close. The drop was 1 cent. for May and 7-8 for July and 1/2 to 3/4 for September in Chicago, and 1 cent for May, 7/8 for July and 1/2 for September in Minneapolis. Winnipeg, March went off 3/4. May 3/4; July and October five cents. There was little or no export demand and trade was of the dullest.

Winnipeg closed: Wheat—No. 1 Hard, 1.07 1/2; No. 1 Northern, 1.06; No. 2 Northern, 1.03 1/2; No. 3 Northern, 97 1/2; No. 4, 92; No. 5, 77 1/2; No. 6, 67 1/2; feed No. 1, 50 1/2; feed No. 2, 46 1/2. Oats—No. 2 white, 42 1/2; No. 3 white, 40; rejected 1 C.P.R. 36; rejected, C.N.R. 36 1/2; Barley—No. 3, 49; Flax —1.07 1/2.

American options: Chicago—May opened 93 1/4, closed 92 1/2; July opened 88 1/2, closed 87 1/2; September opened 86 1/2, closed 86 1/4. Minneapolis—May opened 1.03 1/2, closed 1.02 1/2; July opened 1.01 1/2, closed 1.00 1/4; September opened 90, closed 89 1/2.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK.

Chicago, March 31.—The cattle trade today was light in volume, but the prices held steady. Calves had a lower tendency. The sheep house receipts were restricted, and the whole list looked 10 to 25 lower than the high price of last week. The steer trade was small in volume, and the demand for the outside description was good at steady prices. It is $4.50 to $5.50 for bulk.

TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Toronto, March 31.—At the city cattle market today there were only moderate receipts of cattle of good quality, the whole tan being in fact little better than it has been of late. Extra choice lots of picked butcher and export cattle were quoted frequently at $5.25 to $5.30. The advance in this week's prices is from 25 to 35 cents over last week, and the market is still strong, although cheap cattle, however, have not yet been disposed of, and there were cattle of this class coming in here from $2 to $3. The proportion of common rough cattle was not large.

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS.

Winnipeg, April 1.—The wheat markets have today shown a strong tendency. In the face of the decline in American markets yesterday, Liverpool opened only 3/4d to 7/8d lower and closed unchanged to 1/4d higher. The American markets opened a shade higher but did not show very strong. They declined, and for a time were very slow and dull, but through the end of the session they strengthened and closed 3/4c to 1c higher. Today's Winnipeg prices are: No. 1 Northern, 1.06 1/2; No. 2 Northern, 1.03 1/2; No. 3 Northern, 98 1/2c; No. 4 wheat, No. 5, 78c; No. 6, 67c; feed wheat, 51; No. 2 feed, 47 1/2. Futures —April 1.06 1/2, May 1.08 1/2, July 1.11 1/2. Oats—No. 2 C.W., 42 1/2; No. 3 white, 40; rejected, 36. Barley a shade easier—No. 3, 49; feed barley, 42. MANITOBA'S TWIN CITIES.

Want the Transcontinental To Build Elaborate Bridge Over Red River.

Winnipeg, April 1.—A joint deputation representing the city councils of Winnipeg and St. Boniface have left for Ottawa, where they will put before the railway commission their views on the new bridge to be constructed by the National Transcontinental across the Red River probably at Lombard street. At the present time there is not sufficient communication between Winnipeg and the neighboring municipality, which has recently grown so remarkably, and the government will be asked to provide street car, vehicular and pedestrian accommodations on new bridge. If this is done the municipalities are prepared to contribute to the cost and will abandon the projected joint bridge lower down the river.

Financial Condition of Ottawa.

Ottawa, April 1.—A boon to millionaires who have suffered from lack of water at the D. R. A. ranges will be welcomed by cowboys to-day and shortly. The government will guarantee six per cent. on the bonds to a part which will pay for it by revenue. The thousand dollars worth of city four per cents. bonds have been sold at par to an Ottawa firm. This is taken as a guarantee that the city will be able to dispose of the debentures on hand at a good price. The banks have considerable juggling in the accounts of Ottawa of late years, and the board of control will institute an inquiry into the system of accounts.

Weed Inspector Injured.

Mackenzieville, Sask., April 1.—William Hall, weed inspector, was fooling with a revolver on Sunday evening when the weapon discharged and the bullet entered the young man's abdomen, passing out at his back. He is alive, but is not expected to recover. It is not known if Hall knew it was loaded. It is thought the trigger caught on his clothes.

Calgary, March 31.—A big b event which will attract more than any interest will be the meetingHarry Lombard and "Kid" Scalerrangements for which are being now. The bout will probably take tabout April 17 in the Sherman's ar

Scaler, who has been in ne to the neighborhood of aSn Francisc to Alf. Fidler last week asking to arrange for a match in Calgary,board who will probably stop in Al took up the proposition at once agreed to meet the "Kid." A letter been sent to Scaler and he will doss be heard from in a few days.

A bout between Scaler andHard would be a very interesting scaler met Lauder twice, once in a s bound bout which was more of a fied of a preliminary, and in a fifteen r battle. It is the general decision Lauder had to go harder to bea Scaler than in any of his ovtests. It was a draw and we had none the worst of it.

The verdict of the majorityhat the decision in the last LoudLauder battle was the proper one, there is no denying the fact t a large minority believe that the sion should have been nothing wo han a draw.

A bout between Scaler and Hard will be a very interesting one.

HART PREPARING FOR BIG.

Hot Springs, March 31.—Johnllo, the heavyweight lighter, throu his manager, who is at Hot Springsto recover a $500 wager to meet vin Hart. The conditions were that inner take all and the receipts f charity if the fight resulted in anical decision, as it did when they St. Patrick's Day. The battle makeplace later in Milwaukee or in Det, Mich. But Willie evidently dislike the conditions which were neces bring them together at the ppe, which would have forced each go for the money and the loser get hing. Hart stated that he would contin ing the baths and preparing hilf to meet Tommy Burns again whhe latter returns from Europe.

Hart, having a victory to his dit over Jack Johnson, might claimhe right to first chance at Burns he himself had not been beaten the Canadian. The proper man wobe for this pair to make another bh, the winner to meet the champion.

PREPARING FOR THE STRUG.

Chicago, March 31.—On Friday the Hackenschmidt-Gotch wrng match for the championship of e world will be held in Dexter park and from present indications ne be witnessed by a tremendous ti. Hackenschmidt is training at the Sgo Athletic Association, while Gohas been going through his preliminary gymnasium of the Illinois Athletic Club, 260 feet away. Both men are reckoned to be in excellent condition. Gotch has a slight advantage in the fact thhe wrestling is to be catch-as-catch-can style with which Hackenschmidt is familiar. He has, however, devi much time to the task of gaining an derstanding of the style, and he and trainers are confident that he will proficient by the time the contest held. Hackenschmidt has also practised extensively in devising methods to be too bold of Gotch, and declares he does not believe it will trouble greatly.

AN INTER-CITY LEAGUE.

A suggestion from Medicine Hat has arrived to the effect that an inter-city league in the main cities of the province, would it not be well to have inter-city hockey matches to decide the championship of Alberta. The title in the hat in making the suggesthave named the Hat vs. Lethbridge ner to play off with the winner of Edmonton-Calgary game, and secon have left out of the question altogeth Wetaskiwin, Strathcona, Red Deer other lively towns that might crop with a brilliant team. But at the bo of it all, the idea is good, and if t province cannot support the game as did last year, the above proposition one of the best of substitutes.

THE THRILL OF THE FAN.

From the south comes the sound mighty swats—the baseball heroes hitting the ball. Never were such hters, and as for the pitchers, every ha lack of them has a new ball that curs five ways at once and would make Ha Wagner look like a Wooden Indian. It is in the season of glowing reports from the training camps, and the fans throughout the land are shaking off their winter lethargy. Every batter is a wonder, every pitcher a phenom, every team has a pennant cinched. Well, spring is a sanguine time, and if the summer sees some hopes trailing in the dust, let us look forward to a good season and a hot fight up to the last game.

CLAY CLEMENT.

Who Will Make Farewell Bow To Edmonton Public To-morrow Night In Hamlet, And Who Will Be Seen In London Assurance To-night.

HIS BROTHER IS FAST.

Hamilton, March 31.—Tom Flanagan has dug up another long-distance speed merchant, who, he says, will create a sensation during the coming season. The new phenom is none other than a brother of Tom Longboat. Flanagan is at the reserve today, and says that he will give the famous Onondaga's brother a workout, and if he shows up as well as he expects, he will take him to Toronto. When Tom Longboat won the Herald race in 1906 he was asked if there were any more Indians on the reserve that could run as fast as he. "My got brother who can run fast," said Tom but that was all the information that could be gained from him. Flanagan says that he hears good reports of his younger Longboat from Tom, who has been out to the reservation for two weeks.

MARATHON TRYOUT, CANADIAN.

Hamilton, March 30.—The Christopher Marathon race from Brantford to Hamilton on May 25 will be the Olympic trial. Mr. Christopher had no objection to the Olympic committee making it the trial race, in fact, he was pleased, but he did not like the idea of the admission fee being charged. Tom Flanagan says that he thinks Mr. Christopher's wishes will be carried out, and that everything will go without a hitch. "What makes the race more important," said Flanagan "is the fact that the first five men to finish will be sent to England to compete in the Olympic Marathon. It will be a great race, and the trophies are well worth competing for."

MARATHON TRY-OUT, AMERICAN

New York, March 31.—The executive committee of the Olympic games has decided that the Boston Athletic Association Marathon race, which is to be held in Boston on April 20, will be the tryout for the Olympic Marathon to be held in London this summer. The committee will select its entries from those who start in that Boston race. The executive committee has also decided that in all three try-outs—Philadelphia, Chicago and the Pacific coast—the size of the circle for throwing the discus shall be the same as the one that will be used in London—2.36 metres.

A FINE HORSE.

Calgary, March 31.—Gay Boy, owned by David A. Campbell of Calgary, the horse that won the first prize in his class at the horse show, is a splendid annual, and a great acquisition to the horse world of Alberta as well as Calgary.

Gay Boy is a handsome bay weighing about 1200 pounds, and is on the verge of nine years. He has a record of 1.12 2-5 for six furlongs and sold for $7,000 when he was brought to America from England at the age of two years.

In the States he is known as a grand horse, and the well-known horseman's journal, The Thoroughbred Record, of Lexington, says that Canada is fortunate to have so good an animal.

ENDORSE RESIDENCE RULE.

Ottawa, March 31. — At the annual meeting of the National Lacrosse Union the Capitals will oppose the motion to rescind the two year residence rule. However, the residence rule is likely to be rescinded. The Capitals favor the appointment of a general manager of the N. L. U. and will support James Murphy of Toronto.

SPORTING BREVITIES.

Jimmy Archer, catcher, formerly of Virden, is with the Buffalo team this season. He left with them last week for the south.

Tommy Burns has deposited $2,500 in connection with his proposal to fight two of the best English heavyweights in one ring in Paris in April.

Longest College Game—Wesleyan College vs. Trinity College of Hartford, 19 innings, score 2 to 2, played at Hartford Conn., June 6, 1907.

Taylor, the Toronto infielder, who played with Virden, Man., some years ago, is with Allentown, Pa., and Wallace who was also at Virden, is with Worcester, Mass.

Captain Duncan C. Ross and Sergt. Major Page fought for points Saturday night in Calgary in a sword contest before a crowd of about 200 people. Page won the broadsword prize as well as taking the laurel in the fencing.

Thoney is evidently making good with Boston, as the scribes of the Hub papers are lauding him to the skies. He has distinguished himself as a wonderful judge of fly balls hit into his territory. His speed both in the field and on the bases is marvelous, according to Boston papers. They call him "Bullet Jack."

Secretary J. M. Wright of the Hamilton Olympic Pereira of the Olympic Committee in reply to the communication received yesterday and today Billy Sherring will make formal application for the managership of the Canadian team. The outlook for Sherring is pretty good, and with a little backing he should land the plum, as he is one of the best-known and most popular athletes in Canada.

In a despatch from Winnipeg yesterday Kid Ford was mentioned as having signed with Brandon. The kid dropped into the office after the paper went to the press and explained that the statement was erroneous. He did think seriously of signing with Brandon at one time, but Sunday a telegraph and a railroad ticket came for him to journey to Philadelphia and the Kid leaves Friday morning on the southern bound train.

The following are the distances of some games: Longest amateur game — Brooklyn Athletic club vs. East End All-Stars 30 innings; score Brooklyn Athletic club 1; East End All-Stars, 1; played at Cleveland, Ohio, July 4, 1907. Longest professional game—Grand Forks vs. Fargo, 25 innings, score 0 to 0; played at Devils Lake, July 18, 1891. Longest Minor league game—Manchester (professionals) vs. Harvard College, 24 innings, score 0 to 0, played at Boston, May 11, 1877. Longest American League game—Boston vs. Athletics, 24 innings, Athletics 4, Boston 1, played at Boston, Sept. 1, 1906. Longest National League games—Cincinnati vs. Chicago, 20 innings, score 7 to 7, played at Cincinnati July 30, 1902. Philadelphia vs. Chicago, 20 innings, score Chicago 2, Philadelphia 1, played at Philadelphia, August 24, 1905.

A copy of Tommy Burns' book on scientific boxing and self-defence was received by the Toronto World the other day and bears out all the glowing advance notices the cablegrams had to say about it. The edition is nicely bound, well printed and should make a valuable supplement to any athletic library. There are a dozen chapters, the champion handing out many valuable hints on the game he has proven himself a master of, some of which later opponents may take advantage of. In the chapter on ring strategy Burns evidently gives his honest method of trying out an opponent. He tells someiaing about his battle with Squires that the reporters missed. The Australian landed the second blow so hard that the Canadian had to clinch until his senses returned. The common story was that Burns landed the only blow of the short mill. The volume is dedicated to the National Sporting Club, with handsome references to the members and considerable attention to the Yankee press representatives, who sent out yellow stories of his meeting with Gunner Moir. No less than 19 splendid sized engravings are given in the book.

BURNS IS RETURNING.

London, March 31.—Tommy Burns sails for New York on Saturday. He makes the assertion that he goes primarily to fight Jack Johnson. While the match will not be definitely closed till Burns lands, it is understood that all details have been agreed upon. A side bet of $5,000 it is understood hinges upon the battle.

ATTELL AND NELSON DRAW.

San Francisco, March 31. — Referee Smith called the fifteen round bout between Abe Attell and Battling Nelson a draw. Attell was believed by unlookers to have the best of the argument and there were cries of fake. Smith's excellent reputation discounts these. It was a hard and fast battle throughout. Nelson's face was covered with blood after a few rounds. Attell had not the strength behind his blows for a knockout.

C. P. R. REDUCES STAFF.

800 Men Laid Off in Angus Shops in Repair Department.

Montreal, April 1—The Canadian Pacific has laid off over eight hundred men in the Angus shops, chiefly in the car repair department, the order going into effect yesterday. David McNichol states that the company does not know what to look forward to or what to plan for, but everything points to quieter times than usual this summer, though the laying off of these men doesn't mean the work is slack at the shops.

PREPARATIONS BY SUICIDE.

Made Arrangements For Disposal of His Body.

Buffalo, aMrch 31.—Melvin Root, 69 years old, arrived here on the 26th instant, from Kansas City, Mo., and made arrangements with a local crematory to cremate his body, when dead, adding that if he should be found dead in front of the crematory, his body be taken in and cremated.

This morning Root went out to the crematory and shot himself three times on the front steps of the building. He was taken to a hospital where it is said he cannot live.

Root's wife died recently. Her body was cremated and brought to Lockport, this state, where her ashes were buried.

Root, who was originally from Lockport, has also asked to have his ashes buried beside his wife.

Douglas of New York, has subscribed $10,000 towards the $200,000 endowment fund which the school of mining affiliated with Queen's University, has lately undertaken to raise in order to qualify for the Carnegie foundation funds. THIS IS STILL SUNNY ALBERTA.

While Saskatchewan Complains of Blizzards Edmontonians Need Sun Parasols.

Winnipeg, April 1—After flirting for a few days with spring, parts of the west are again in the grip of winter. The worst blizzard of the season,which struck northern Saskatchewan yesterday, is now general and for the first time this winter reports are coming in that traffic is blocked on the branch lines and that there are delays on main lines. This is most unfortunate as a good deal of stock and settlers' effects are now being moved in from south of the boundary, but the railways are in vastly better condition to handle an emergency than during the storms of this time last winter.

There is no shortage of power and the rotary plows are doing good work. While the heavy snowfall will put back seeding operations for a few days the precipitation was really needed to get much of the land into good shape.

Investigation Started.

Ottawa, April 1.—It is learned on good authority that Hon. L. P. Brodeur is making an investigaiton into the report of the Civil Service Commission in so far as it affects his department, and the likelihood is that before many days are over there will be some suspensions, if not dismissals in the staff of the marine and fisheries department.

FINED FOR ASSAULT.

At the police court yesterday afternoon, a colored man named John Franklin appeared on a chareg of painting a revolver at Nora Johnson, the colored landlady of the house in which he lived on Syndicate avenue. The evidence went to show that on last Sunday night there had been a quarrel between teh two and a general mix-up, in which Franklin used his fists and the lady came back with a few passes with a large pair of shears. The charge of pointing a gun was dismissed, but a later charge of assault resulted in a fine of $10 and costs being imposed.

STROWGER PHONES MAY 1st.

Superintendent Cumming of the Telephone Department, is authority for the statement that Edmonton will be using the Strowger system by May 1st. There is no doubt but that Chicago Automatic Co. will have their contract ready by the specified time on April 20th, but it will require about ten days more to get the directory ready for issuing to the subscribers.

At the change over, it is expected there will be about 700 using the new system. Some subscribers in the east end will not be able to get their automatic phones till the general change over on July 1st, after which it is expected that all of Edmonton as well as Strathcona will have the new systems.

The city telephone department is installing the inside connections as rapidly as possible and every possible subscriber will get the automatic at once. The difficulty is in the east end where the outside installation work was delayed last summer.

There will be no difficulty, though a little delay in an automatic telephone subscriber getting one of the old phone users. It will be necessary to call the Long Distance, and then ask for the number wanted. In the first directory the automatic phone subscribers will be all above 1,000, and will be printed in black-faced type, while the others will be in the ordinary figures.

Action will also be taken with reference to religious instruction in the public schools and a committee will be appointed to make suggestions to the board of education. The matter of the distribution of literature in order to build up a feeling in Alberta in favor of the temperance and moral reform movement will also be considered. J. R. Cowell, of Red Deer, is president of the league and Rev. G. G. Webber, Innisfail, secretary.

ALBERTA ACTIVITY.

The following, which appeared in a recent issued of tne Winnipeg Commercial, shows clearly the way in which the activity in railway construction in the vicinity of Edmonton is regarded:

"There are already signs of the beginning of the spring activity in Alberta. Everyone believes that there is an immense future for that part of the Dominion, and 1908 will see a wonderful development there. Every day many supply outfits are leaving Edmonton, for instance, for the construction camps east and west from there. The sub-contracts for the Grand Trunk Pacific both east and west of Edmonton for some forty miles have been let, and the summer's supplies are being rushed forward. The immigration movement has set in, with every prospect of a record season, and during January and February the Land Office reports that the homestead entries in Edmonton were fifty per cent. ahead of the same months last year. The explanation of this is found largely in the rush of people to the new lands lying along the route of the Grand Trunk Pacific. In a few weeks there will be a heavy movement of settlers along the westward trail."

ADDITIONS TO POLICE FORCE.

Two new men have been appointed to the city police force to take the places of Officer Miller, who has retired, and Officer McLean, who has received an appointment at the government buildings.

The two new men are F. J. Charles, for two years in the South African constabulary and a recent resident of Winnipeg, and A. H. Elliott, for some months a guard at Edmonton penitentiary. Both men assume duty at once.

Fifteen applications have been received for the two appointments to be made of mounted patrolmen. The applicants have been asked to report to the Chief of Police next Monday evening at eight o'clock, when a selection will likely be made. The chief is also on the look-out for two suitable horses to be used by the new officers.

INTERCHANGE OF TICKETS.

May Now Go to Europe by One Line And Return by Another.

New York, April 1.—The interchange of steamship tickets between the different lines comprising the North Atlantic Steamship Conference went into effect today, and those who purchased round-trip tickets for any part of Europe were informed that they could select their own route and steamship line for their return to this side.

Buying return tickets will be of advantage only during the "rush" season, when the returning hordes of tourists fill every westward-bound steamer. The same agreement which provides for the exchange of return accommodation has also abolished the rebate on round-trip tickets.

The lines exchanging tickets are the Cunard, North German Lloyd, American, Hamburg-American, French, Red Star, White Star, Atlantic Transport, Holland-American, and Dominion and Leyland lines, running out of Boston. The Allan Line and the Canadian Pacific lines between Montreal and Liverpool have declined to enter the combination.

The exchange of tickets between the lines will be done on the other side. Four weeks' notice of the change is required when a round-trip ticket for a certain date and steamer has been bought.

TROUBLE IN FAR NORTH.

Arrival of Troops Surprises Men at Juneau.

Juneau, Alaska, March 31.—Company F, 10th U. S. infantry, arrived at Treadwell yesterday on the army steamer Peterson, with orders from Gen. Bush of Vancouver barracks to aid the local marshals.

The arrival of the troops was unexpected. There is no disorder here. A number of arrests of miners for carrying concealed weapons have been made. A peace committee of the union is keeping a strict patrol of the town and there is little if any drunkenness.

Supt. Kinzie says there has been no trouble. The troops were brought as a preventive measure. Kinzie says he has a full surface crew. All the mills are running with the exceptio of the seven hundredth, which is on half time. The union leaders say that nearly the entire working force is out, and that only fifty men are working.

Companies Will Not Amalgamate.

Montreal, April 1.—That there is absolutely no truth in the story of the amalgamation between the Lake of the Woods and the Ogilvie Milling Companies is demonstrated by the statements and attitude of the officials of each company. The president of the Lake of the Woods, being seen, said: "I want you to deny in the most positive manner that there is a word of truth in the rumor that there is any possibility of either company being absorbed by or amalgamated with the other."

Three new families arrived at the Immigration hall this morning. J. P. Ledoux and family came from Molisle, Ala. L. Whitehead and T. Walker came from Manchestr, Eng., where they have been engaged as bricklayers. They brought their families with them, and will go to the Peace River as soon as possible.

MURRAY-SWARBRICK.

The marriage of Miss Amy Evelyn Swarbrick, for several years a teacher in Edmonton schools, and Arthur Archibald Murray, took place yesterday, Rev. H. A. Gray officiating at the ceremony. Mr. Turner and Miss Shepherd were the witnesses of the marriage.

MONTHLY STATISTICS.

Yesterday closed the year with the Customs House, and the returns issued to-day show continued growth in Edmonton.

During the year ending March 31st, the customs receipts amounted to $22,272.74, while for the previous year the total was $19,845.19. The dutiable mail parcels for last year totalled 10,899, and the express parcels last year 2,873 against 1,350 for the previous twelve months.

The dutiable mail parcels for March totalled 805 against 650 in February. The express parcels totalled 191 against 161 for the same month last year.

Vital Statistics.

Vital statistics furnished by Registrar Jellett for the month of March are as follows:

SPRING SCHOOL CHANGES.

The eight rooms of the Alexander Taylor school are all in use this morning. C. A. P. Keffer, the principal of this school has taken charge of Standard V. class of McKay avenue school as successor to Walter Scott, B.A., who was recently engaged as mathematical master in the Calgary High school. Mr. Scott went south to Calgary this morning to assume his new duties. During the period of his engagement on the teaching staff of the Edmonton public schools, Mr. Scott has made for himself an enviable reputation for faithfulness and efficiency in school work, and the Calgary school board are considered fortunate in securing him. Miss Genevieve MacDonald is acting principal of the Alexander Taylor school in the place of Mr. Keffer, and will be in charge until school closes in July.

Miss Ethel Rife, of the Peace avenue school staff, was called east last evening on account of the serious illness of her sister at Hespelia, Ont., Miss Lillian Tidsbury is acting as substitute teacher in her place.

Four new teachers have entered the service of the school board this morning. Misses Gertrude Santon, B.A., Hazel MacNeil and Maude Penfold are teaching in the Alexander Taylor school, and Miss Olive Walker is in charge of the primary department of the north Syndicate school.

Miss Close has been appointed substitute principal in Miss Danard's place in Norwood. Miss Danard leaves this evening to take charge of her former school at Pakan.

AMUSEMENTS

CLAY CLEMENT'S RETURN

To-night at the Edmonton Opera House Mr. Clay Clement and his New York company will present one of their most popular successes, "London Assurance." This delightful comedy was probably the one which received the most generous approval during the Company's engagement last week and should do a record business to-night. To-morrow night Mr. Clement will make his final bow to an Edmonton audience and more than ordinary interest is taken in the fact that Hamlet will be the production.

Mr. Clement has been called the greatest living Hamlet and local playgoers are indeed fortunate in being able to see so great an actor in so great a part.
